We will ensure to take all reasonable steps to keep accurate and up to date any information which we hold about you. If, at any time, you discover that information which we hold about you is incorrect, you should contact us to have the information corrected.

If you are not satisfied with how we are processing your personal data, you can make a complaint to the Information Commissioner's Office.

How we collect your data

We collect your personal data in a number of ways, for example:

- ▶ From the information you provide to us when you meet us;
- ▶ From information about you provided to us by your company or an intermediary;
- ▶ When you communicate with us by telephone, fax, email or other forms of electronic communication. In this respect, we may monitor, record and store any such communication;
- ▶ When you complete (or we complete on your behalf) a party booking, loyalty scheme application, advertising agreement, employment application or any other form we may provide from time to time;
- ▶ From your parents, agents, advisers, intermediaries, and custodians;
- ▶ From publicly available sources or from third parties, most commonly where we need to conduct background checks about you.

The categories of personal data we collect

We collect the following categories of personal data about you:

- ▶ Your name and contact information such as your current and previous home or business address, email address and telephone number;
- ▶ Biographical information which may confirm your identity including your gender, date of birth, tax and NI identification number and your passport number or national identity card details;
- ▶ Your bank account details;

- ▶ Information to assess whether you may represent a politically exposed person or money laundering risk.

We may also hold information about you which we have received from third parties, such as credit reference agencies, fraud prevention agencies and insurance reference agencies, which may include:-

- ▶ All the types of information mentioned in the previous paragraph;
- ▶ Whether you have any adverse credit history;
- ▶ Whether you have any CCJs or similar judgments against you;
- ▶ Whether you have ever been bankrupt;
- ▶ Details of previous address at which you have lived; any references given by your existing employer and/or landlord.

The basis for processing your personal data (other than with your consent), how we use that personal data and whom we share it with

(1) Performance of contract

We process your personal data because it is necessary for the performance of a contract to which you are a party or in order to take steps at your request prior to entering into a contract.

In this respect, we use your personal data for the following:

- ▶ To carry various searches and checks against you for the purposes of providing the information to decide whether you are a suitable candidate for credit.
- ▶ To prepare a proposal for you regarding the services we offer;
- ▶ To provide you with the services as set out in our Terms of Engagement with you or as otherwise agreed with you from time to time;
- ▶ To deal with any complaints or feedback you may have;
- ▶ For any other purpose for which you provide us with your personal data.

In this respect we will share your personal data with the following:

- ▶ Your parents, agents, advisers, intermediaries, and custodians who you tell us about;
- ▶ Our legal, accounting, marketing or other professional advisers, our postal or transport providers;
- ▶ Credit reference agencies and fraud prevention agencies;
- ▶ Third parties (such as your existing and previous employers and your existing and previous landlords) for the purpose of such persons giving us a reference about you;

- ▶ Third parties whom we engage to assist in delivering the services to you;
- ▶ Our data storage providers

(2) Legitimate interests

We also process your personal data because it is necessary for our legitimate interests, or sometimes where it is necessary for the legitimate interests of another person.

In this respect, we use your personal data for the following:

- ▶ For the provision of ongoing advice in regard to services we provide or advertising you may take out with us.
- ▶ For the administration and management of our business, including recovering money you owe to us and our clients and archiving or statistical analysis;
- ▶ Seeking advice on our rights and obligations;

In this respect we will share your personal data with the following:

Our advisers or agents where it is necessary for us to obtain their advice or assistance;

(3) Legal obligations

We also process your personal data for our compliance with a legal obligation which we are under.

In this respect, we will use your personal data for the following:

- ▶ To meet our compliance and regulatory obligations, such as compliance with anti-money laundering laws;
- ▶ As required by tax authorities or any competent court or legal authority.

In this respect, we will share your personal data with the following:

- ▶ Our advisers where it is necessary for us to obtain their advice or assistance;
- ▶ Our auditors where it is necessary as part of their auditing functions;
- ▶ With third parties who assist us in conducting background checks;
- ▶ With relevant regulators or law enforcement agencies where we are required to do so.

Where we need your explicit consent to communicate with you

We will in certain cases communicate with you for the following reasons, provided that you have given your explicit consent as set out below:

- ▶ In providing advertising material about our services:

I consent to you communicating by email for these purposes []

I consent to you communicating by telephone for these purposes []

I consent to you communicating by SMS and MMS messaging for these purposes []

It should be noted that if you do not agree to this or you withdraw your consent then this may impact the scope of the services we are able to provide to you on an ongoing basis.

Withdrawal of Consent

If you have given your consent and you wish to withdraw it at any time, please contact us using the following:

Transfer and processing of your personal data outside the European Union

When sharing your personal data with third parties as set out in this Privacy Notice, it may be transferred outside the European Union. In these circumstances, your personal data will only be transferred on one of the following bases:

- ▶ The country that we send the personal data to is approved by the European Commission as providing an adequate level of protection for personal data;
- ▶ The transfer is to a recipient in the United States of America who has registered under the EU/US Privacy Shield;
- ▶ The recipient has entered into European Commission standard contractual clauses with us; or
- ▶ You have explicitly consented to the same prior to the transfer of any personal data.

To find out more about transfers by us of your personal data outside the European Union and the countries concerned please contact us using the following:

Retention of your data

We will only retain your personal data for as long as we have a lawful reason to do so. In particular:

- ▶ Where we have collected your personal data for the purpose of a contract either with ourselves or our clients, we will retain that personal data for three years after the termination of that contract, unless we are required to retain this information by another law or for the purposes of court proceedings;

- ▶ Where we have collected your personal data as required by anti-money laundering legislation, including for identification, screening and reporting, we will retain that personal data for ten years after the termination of our relationship, unless we are required to retain this information by another law or for the purposes of court proceedings; or
- ▶ otherwise, we will in most cases retain your personal data for a period of ten years after the termination of our relationship with you in case any claims arise out of the provision of our services to you.
